The Leadership Institute Seminar:

Motivate and Manage a Differentiated Classroom

Presenter: Brian Mendler

Classrooms are composed of students with a wide range of challenges: various learning problems, different levels of English proficiency, divergent interests, various skill levels, and unique learning needs without a label. How can teachers face the demands of serving such a variety of student educational needs? Brian Mendler will demystify differentiated instruction to motivate and maximize student learning. Participants will leave with practical strategies to manage the differentiated classroom and effectively awaken student motivation.
